David Chang Promoted to Haskell & White Senior Tax Manager

Haskell & White, one of the largest public accounting firms in Southern California, congratulates David Chang on his promotion to senior tax manager. Chang has more than a decade in public accounting, with expertise in tax consulting and compliance services for corporations and high net worth individuals. He works with domestic and foreign entities, focusing on technology, manufacturing, and professional services industries. He utilizes his business acumen and technical skills to establish strong relationships with his clients, for whom he offers a practical path to meeting their financial goals. In his spare time, Chang enjoys spending time with his family, traveling and dabbling in photography.
